The Seastor further declared that Bryan is wabbling from one issue to another, and using any and all claptrap issues to advance his cause. Benator Hanns stated that the so-called issue of imperialism has fallen flat; that the so-called trust issue will soon fall as flat as that of imperialism, and that the real issue of the campaign, notwithstanding the effort of Bryan and the Democratic party is the paramount issue of the country, shall continue under the present gold standard, or whether Heyan's panacea for all trubles—the fire coinage of silver at its wabbling around from one issue to another trying to find safe ground of the campaign. RAWLINS (Wyo., Sept. 33.—After a week of great exertion in speaking and traveling, Gov. Rooseveit resolved so spend a quiet Sunday, and a Sunday of rest. At the conclusion of the meeting at Rock Springs last night, the special train pulled out on what is called O'Neil's spur, where it remained the balance of the night, and during the day remote from the town or city. The train rested near Day's ranch, and the party, numbering about thirty or more, were entertained at the ranch with a game dinner. During the day horses were provided, and about twenty-five of the party, meluding the Governor, took a gallop over the adjacent hills.

Four speeches have been arranged for tomorrow, at Rawlins, Medicine Bow, Laramie and Cheyenne. The first three meeting will be held during the day, and the night meeting will take place at Cheyenne. From Cheyenne the Governor will proceed to Colorado, Kansas and Nebraska in the order named. Deadwood, S. D., will be reached about October 5, from which point he will go to Chicago, where he is scheduled to speak on October 6. Bo far, the Governor's voice is holding out well, and his strength seems to be improving rather than otherwise.

Unless he meets with some unforeseen mishap, such as a sudden cold or sickness, he will be able to complete the entire trip, notwithstanding the enormous test of endurance, without missing an appointment to speak. During this campaign, he will have traveled over ten thousand miles, and have delivered more than seven hundred and twenty-five speeches.

There is no concealment of the fact that the speech is to be made in the city, because it is the home of a branch of the starch combine. This institution has been attacked in a suit brought by the Attorney-General of the State. This renders the situation somewhat acute, and some of Mr. Bryan's friends have advised him not to participate in any way in the matter. He has decided, however, that the better plan is to explain his position frankly to the people who are most affected by the proceeding. The place is also the home of J. Sterling Morton.

HELLENA (Mont...) Sept. 23.—(Errclusive Dispatch...) W. A. Clark's political managers here, evidently recognising the hopelessness of the present situation, owing to the division of their party in three factions, have been making strenuous efforts to win back the Labor party, and have even gone so far as to offer to withdraw their candidate for Lieutenant-Governor and substitute the name of J. A. Ferguson, the Labor party gubernatorial candidate, but this was declined, it is believed, in the hope that the Daly convention at Butte next month will indorse Ferguson's candidacy.

"The action of our convention is sufficient answer to the latest Clark proposition," said Ferguson today. "Under no circumstances will I withdraw in favor of any Democratic nomines, or any one else. I am in the fight from now until election. The working people have nominated me for Governor and I shall certainly remain in the fight.

Strange Discovery Made by a Navigator at the Mouth of the Gulf of Mexico.

Mexico.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 23—Capt. Liddle of the British steamship King Bleddyn which arrived here today, brought a tale of the discovery of a submarine volcano on the northeastern edge of the Campeche Bank at the mouth of the Gulf of Mexico. The location was 102 miles north of Cape Taoche, the nearest points f iznd.

The captain said that late in the afternoon of September 18 he saw a great volume of vapor one mile away. It seemed to cover a space of at least 100 fet square. The air was clear and the sun was shining at the time. The vapor rose like a cloud of steam sixty or seventy feet in the air. The water around seemed to be perfectly clear.

"Occasionally the vapor would clear," said the captain, "and then we saw the water break as if over a shoal. Now, it is impossible that any shoal existed there, and, if it, did, that would not account for the vapor.

"The chart shows forty-one fathoms of water near this point, and just to the eastward of the bank it deepens to 300 fathoms. We watefied the vapor and the occasional boiling of the water for nearly and hour, and the disturbance was still going on as lively as ever. It certainly looked like a volcanic disturbance to me."

Capt. Liddle took an obsevration, and marks the spot as being Lat. 23.14 and Long. 57.7.

erally expressed that tomorrow morning will witness a renewal of the rotous scenes of Friday.

The superintendents of all the mines in the vicinity of this city and Shamokin today reiterated their intention of resuming operations tomorrow. The strikers, however, declare that they will not succeed, at least in the Shenandoah mines.

R was not until after noon that there was any noticeable activity on the streets. In the morning churches of all denominations were erowded, and the sermons were invariably the subject of the mine troubles. In the Church of the Annunciation, Rev. R. F. Reilly, the rector, told his congression that the mine workers could not win. He advised them to refrain from acts of violence and to return to work. He pointed out that the mines were their only means of support, while the proceeds of the Reading Company would not starve, he said, but the mine workers would.

Father Peter Abramsts of the Lithunian Church of St. Georse, said that 'the men expected to win, perfect organization was necessary. He believed that if they were undivided their struggle would meet with success.

Harrisburg (Pa.,) Sept. 23.—The situation in the Schuylkill strike region is very satisfactory to the officers on duty at the National Guard headuarte.s in Harrisburg. Their advices from there today were that everything was quiet, and that no serious trouble was anticipated. Adjt.-Gen. Stewart was at his office all day, in close communication with troops in the field. Gov. Stone is taking interest in the operotions of the soldiers, and is being kept fully advised of their movements.

Maj.-Gen. Miller is on duty at head-quarters, with Col. Elliott of Philadelphia, assistant adjutant-general, and Maj. Beltier, an aide on the division staff. Col. Richardson, keeper of the State arsenal, has been at his post almost constantly since Friday night, ready for any emergency, or to meet any demand that may be made for the troops at Shenandoah. The Ninth and Thirteenth Regiments are still being held under waiting orders, and if additional troops are needed, they can be on duty within two hours.

The aggregate strength of the three regiments of infantry, one troop of cavalry and one battery of artillery in the field is nearly 2000, and unless there is another uprising, no more troops will be called out.

Prince Tuan and Other Boxer Leaders Promoted-Gen. Wilson Criticised.

LONDON, Sept 24, 4:3 a.m.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The morning papers are too fully occupied with the general election campaign to bestow much attention upon the Chinese problem.

According to the Peking correspondent of the Dally News, wiring September 15, the Chinese declare most positively that the Empress Dowager and the Emperor will in no case return to the imperial palace in Peking, as they hold that it has been desecrated by the intrusion of barbarians.

This irreconcilable attitude receives confirmation in many reports emanating from Shanghal. One of these is that, as a reply to the denunciation of Prince Tuan and others by the vice-roys, an imperial edict dated September 17 deals more leniently with the Boxer movement, and reminds the propie that both the Boxers and Chinese Christians are Chinamen who shall receive imperial protection if they quietly disperse to their homes. The edict points out that it is impossible for the imperial government to distinguish between good and bad Boxers. It says, however, if the Boxers continue to assemble they will be dealt with summarily.

Another report says that the edict rearly to delease that he are received in the content of th

The tie-up remains practically the same as when the strike went into effect a week ago. All the mines are idle and the ten washeries continue to operate. The mine workers now claim to have 70,000 of the 75,000 men of district No. 1 enrolled in their organization.

There was great excitement here last night, and strikers made assertions that may lead to trouble today when attempts are made to open the mines i nthe Schujkkill regian. Boasts were made that any miners who should ge to work this morning would not return to their hoves alive.

The aim of the Reading Company officials is to break the force of the strike in the anthractic region by getting a fair supply to market. The trouble, as it now stands, has gut off 85 per cent. of the product of fill the mines. The Reading Company's allotment is 21 per cent. and this can be filled with the colliers only on part time. With the aid of the military it is intended to push work at every mine, if possible, but this can hardly be accomplished. At the beginning of the trouble, the officials assumed that because their men had few grieyances except in the matter of wages, they could continue to operate their mines. The actions of the rioters here, and a change of sentiment among some of the miners have served to cast doubt this point, but it is well known that the property and the server of the miners have served to cast doubt this point, but it is well known that In.

HUSBAND'S JEALOUS RAGE

Frank Savage Creates a Scene at Apartments of His Wife, Whom He Had Left.

Although living apert from his wife, Frank Savage, a well-known broker and claim shaver of this city, is very jealous of her. He has been watching her since their separation two months ago, and his terrible passion has burned more flercely every day. Last night he threatened to commit murder as a result of his jealousies. The couple were married five years ago. Their married life has not been happy of late, and on the 12th of last month Savage left his wife in the flat where they had been living at No. 1804 South Main street, and departed, saying that he would not come back. The couple have no children, but the husband has contributed money, since the separation, aware that her husband was watching her, and when she heard the commotion at the entrance she at once thought of him. She went to the door and opened it.

Shouting "I'll kill that man," and brandishing a revolver, Savage dashed into and through the house. In his mad rush he overlooked the male caller, who was standing in the hallway just about to depart. Hearing Savage's wild threat the caller left promptly. Meanwhile the infuriated tusband had looked through the rooms and had not found the man he expected to see. He was thoroughly maddened by this time and started for the front looking for his wife.

She was on the plassa clamoring at the door of the next flat for protection. Here Savage overtook her and selsed her, hissing: "I'll shoot you," and cursing. The woman screamed for aid. Hershricks were heard throughout the neighborhood.

Then a pistol was fired once, and some witnesses asy 'twice. Savage is a deputy constable and he claims that his pistol, which he always carries, dropped from his pocket. The preponderance of evidence is that he had the gun in his hand, and his wife says that he threatened to shoot her.

Dragging the woman into the house the excited husband waved his pistol at her and her female friend, and cursing them, said that if they did not confess he would kill them. His anger rose still higher and he dree "ed his wife into the bedroom and locked the door. Mrs. Savage avers that he again threatened to shoot her, and insisted upon a confession. The police, who had been summoned by neighbors, pounded on the entrance door and stopped the scene. Savage released his hold on the woman, went from her room, taking the precaution to lock her in, and admitted the policemen. Mrs. Savage made the following statement:

"My husband's suspicions and charges against me are false. We were married for five years and I have always been a good wife to him, although—and I can prove what I say—be beat me and abused me even before our separation. He left me here in these rooms without any means of support.

and that he has secured possession of a letter written by a mail clerk to his wife, which he claims to be incriminat-ing. His wife states that the letter which her husband hopes to use against her contains absolutely nothing wrong, simply saying that the writer would call on her upon a given date.

BACRAMENTO, Sept. 2:—On Friday last William Weilman was arrested here on a Santa Rosa warrant, charging him with assault with intent to commit murder. Saturday evening, Deputy Sheriff J. S. Gilliam of Santa Rosa arrived here to take the prisoner back. Weilman had known Gilliam at Santa Rosa, and the latter agreed to go with the former to his salooh, pass the might there and go back to Santa Rosa today. Weilman was turned over to Gilliam, and the two went to the saloon and went to bed together. This morning when Gilliam woke, Weilman, who had passed him a gold brick, was gone. He has not yet been located.

(A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

MONTREAL, Sept. 23.—Lieut. Hobson arrived in this city this evening. He was shown the answer made by Admiral Dewey to the interview with the lieutenant sent out from Vancouver. He said he was deeply grieved that Admiral Dewey had taken the matter up in the way reported. He declared that he was not responsible for the statement made in the Vancouver interview. He had been approached by a reporter, and in the course of a conversation, had stated that the Spanish had been sunk because the plugs were drawn by the Spanish. He explained that it was impossible to sink a ship by hitting it above the water line. Admiral Dewey had, however, compelled the Spaniards to sink their ships, and that was just as effective as sinking them with shells. Personally, he had the highest possible respect for Admiral Dewey and his great achievement, and he greatly regretted that anything had been attributed to him which might tend to destroy the giory of the admiral's deed.

Big Waterspout in the Nueces Valley.

Much Property Destroyed and Loss of Life Reported. Brazos Rising.

IA. P. NIGHT REPORT.!

CHICAGO, Sept. 23.—A dispatch to the Times-Herald from Dallats, Tex., says:

"A cloudburst in the Nueces River country, ninety miles west of the Southern Pacific road, resulting in a terrific flood and much loss of life, is reported tonight. Meager details have been received, but it is claimed that from thirty to forty italians employed on the sheep ranches were drowned, and all the ranches swamped. Many flocks of sheep have been lost and a large amount of property destroyed.

"From the most reliable information obtainable tonight, extensive storm damages have been inflicted on the Upper Colorado and the Concho River valleys, particularly at and near Brownwood, Blanket and San Angelo. Wire communication with all these places is cut off, and the rallroad lines damaged so that no trains can reach them.

"Reports indicate that the heaviest damage is at San Angelo, although bridges in Brownwood have been wrecked or injured. It is also feared many lives have been lost. The last telegram from Brownwood, sent out at about 10 a.m., stated that the town was flooded, and entirely surrounded by water, and that people and goods are being removed to places of safety in rowboats and rafts.

"Bulletins from Temple state that the tracks of the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fé Railroad are under water to Hrownwood, and that nothing can be heard from places up the line. The rain is pouring down and streams are still rising. The country districts cannot be heard from.

"It is raining hard for approximately 100 miles in all directions from Brownwood, and as the streams in that part of Texas are now very treacherous in the matter of sudden rises, a disaster is feared."

MUCH DAMAGE REPORTED.

(A. P. NIGHT REPORT.)

The contrast between today and the Sunday following the great storm has been almost as great as between the Sunday after the storm and the preceding Sunday. Many people attended church services, and the day passed without disorder or excitement. In all about forty bodies were taken from the ruins today. Tomorrow it.is estimated that about twenty-five hundred men will be at work on the wreckage. Thirty days will be required to do the work.

The plan to erect homes for those who lost everything by the storm, so earnestly advocated by Clara Barton, is meeting with every encouragement. A large fund is to be raised for this purpose, to be disbursed by Miss Barton. Five hundred and seventy-six persons were treated at the emergency hospital today. Many serious cases are reported, and several deaths are likely to resuit.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society came forward and offered to bury the deceased, if no relatives claimed the body, and the missionary popular would not give it up until certain moneys alleged to be due them were paid. Whereat Messers, Garret and Brusse had a long and heated debate via telephone, Garret applying unpoetic epithets to his business rival. The quarrel is still on. SALISBURY'S MANIFESTO.

Why Government Ought to be Supported.

Only Hope for Speedy Peace in Africa.

Chinese Question is Also an Important Consideration in the Elections.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, Sept. 23.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Lord Saliaburs's manifesto to the electors of the United Kingdom, in anticipation of the Parliamentary general elections, emphasized the necessity that the Queen's government should be supported by a strong parliamentary majority, as "the only means of convincing the inhabitants of the conquered South African territories that there is no hope of diverting the government from their policy — persistent resistance or agitation."

After remarking that "all the recent ernment from their policy persistent resistance or agitation."

After remarking that "all the recent troubles in South Africa have been due to a shift of parliamentary opinion at a critical moment," the Prime Minister goes on to say:

"It will debend upon the deposition and conduct of the Boers how long an interval is to elapse before their full position as a British colony is attained. The brilliant success of Lord Roberts's army must not blind us to the imperfections disclosed in our own defensive armor, imperfections which, but for the war, might have remained unnoticed. It will be the urgent duty of Parliament and government to remove these defects, a duty which certainly could not be discharged by a ministry dependent upon a broken parts."

In conclusion Lord Balisbury refers to China as "a difficulty, among others, confronting the government and requiring that the government should be armed with a strong majority in the House of Commons.

He urges that, in view of all these considerations, there should be no absentions at the polls.

MY PET CHICKEN.

BY A LITTLE BOY GROWN UP.

WAS brought up on a farm in Southern Indiana, the nearest post-office was at Rockport, nine miles away, and we knew but little of the outside world. My folks took the county paper, and the church paper, but father died when I was a little boy. I guess that I hardly knew, until I was a young man, that there was such a thing as a daily paper in the world. I saw my first railroad train when I was 160 miles from home, and on my way to college. But about my pet. I have always loved the anigual kingdom, and that love has never seen extinguished. Our barnyard was alive with chickens, and occasionally one of them would get sick, and need a doctor. My first practice was done among the chickens. A little black pand by got well. We were close to the woold, I gave it hot cornment dough, and hot water, with a little red pepper, and it grew better, and by and by got well. We were close friends by this time, and mother allowed me to keep it in the house, and one of these good men came to see us on Saturday; he was to preach in the home of the Methodist preacher, and one of these good men came to see us on Saturday; he was to preach in the home of the Methodist preacher, and the preacher and the preacher and by got well. We were close friends by this time, and mother allowed me to keep it in the house, and it formed the habit of following me about the place. Our house was the home of the Methodist preacher, and one of these good men came to see us on Saturday; he was to preach in the home of the Methodist preacher, and the preacher and the preacher and the preacher and the preacher and a whole brood of little chicks, but I refused to trade. She offered me a pocket-knife, and at almost any others time I would have considered the bar.

I protested, and mother wanted to kill, the preacher and a whole brood of little chicks, but I refused to trade. She offered me a pocket-knife, and at almost any others the project as a laid down by Bishop Meraul of Treaton. BY A LITTLE BOY GROWN UP.

that city had later fallen; if our troops there had been overwhelmed; if the families of foreigners had been destroyed, what would have been said of Gen. Otis? Every man in the United States would have called him either an idiot or a coward. There was nothing in this situation to lead a prudent commander, ofrcumstanced as he and our army were circumstanced, a general attack having been made upon us, to do other than to press forward. But it turns out that no such fiag of truce was ever brought to Gen. Otls: that no such request for an armistice was made of Gen. Otis.

The Adjutant-General, in order to be able to furnish information sought by a resolution of the Senate, wired Gen. Otis as follows:

THE POWER TO GOVERN THE PHILIPPINES IS NOT IN ANY ADMINISTRATION.

Mr. SPOONER. I will restate, Mr. President, that in all these constant agitations and denunciations—and the Senator ought to know it, and those for whom he speaks ought to know it—the power to govern and dispose of the Philippine Archipelago is not in any administration; it is not in any President, but, under the Constitution, it is in Congress. As I said before, the Senator came in, what we are concerned about now is the discharge, in a manful way, of present duty. and Painted with Smokestack Varnish.

MANSFIELD (O.,) Sept. 23.—Another mob broke loose tere this afternoon and Elders Ephraim Bassinger of Bluffton and Silas Moot of Lima,

"Would it have been wise to dispute with Naaman? Nay! All true, Naaman? Nay! All true, Naaman: but, Naaman, thou art a leper.

"It was the honesty of Naaman that finally prevalled. It is to the man, like Naaman I'm speaking today. The man who is willing to pay for the truth.

"How would you find the North Pole? Stand here and say there is no North Pole? You must bunt for the truth and pay the price.

"How did you discover oil here in Los Angeles? By saying you believed there was none? No, by diggling and boring and paying the price."

Touching on the question of rational amusements, the bishop said:

"I think I could say something to gratify young people on the subject of amusementa. Thank God, I was born in the sunlight."

The bishop handled without kick the man who stood and parleyed with God and didn't propose to go into a church unless he could have one that would permit him to do as he pleased on the amusement question.

"You must be willine to give something up. If it is wine or cards, or anything else, let it go. "Now, walit! I want to say to you that the man who does not let it go will be damned! I know that is a hersh statement to make in a church that has a carpet on its floor. [Laughter.]

"If you tell me how, in this life or any other, you are to escane the renaity of violated law. I'll tell-you how to escape being damned for being a siner."

He told of a man in Boston who came to him for light, but said that

Of the Conference of Ordination Ceremonies and Crowds.

Bishop Hamilton's Lively Ser-

Sunday was the crowning day of the twenty-fifth annual session of the Southern California Conference. It is the day of the annual session upon which the rites of ordination and confirmation are conferred upon those men and women who have won advancement to the several orders of the church. It is the day upon which Methodist preachers take the conference city by storm; when, upon invitation from their ecclesiastical brethren of other denominations, they can with Christian grace shoot arrows of Wesleyanism from the pulpits of their coworkers. In the First Church, where the conference is in session, there were as many meetings as the day would admit. The meeting at 6 a.m., under the index-the of Insent H. Smith. Was

"TRE PACT OF PEACE."

TREATY OF BIAC-NA-BATO.

In tomorrow's Times will be printed an authentic account of the peace compact made between the Spanish Captain-General, Primo de Rivera, and Aguinaldo, in December, 1897. This has sometimes been called the treaty of Biac-na-Bato, taking its name from Aguinaldo's mountain fastness, to which he had retired in May, 1897, after the insurgents had been overcome by Rivera.

The HARRISON GRAY OTTE, take the truth that is in it, and apply that to both. As to being pointed, that's what I'm here for.

"You can't get people to believe everything. You must be satisfied if the two left went to believe enough to save them. I might become a Baptist, but it would be very difficult if I had to accept the belief of your fathers (if any of my good Baptist brethren have been so kind as to drop in to hear me today,) but if I believed that through way to be saved, I'd be willing to be baptised with it would be very tempty-four hours.

of Bluffton and Silas Moot of Lima, Zionists, were its victims. The two elders got off an Erie train early this morning unknown to the authorities. They were recognized by a small crowd at the depot, which refused to let them enter a cab, then followed up the street and surrounded them near the center of the city. They were taken by the mob to the Rockland Buggy Works, where Bassinger disrobed, but the crowd tore Moot's clothing from his body, as he refused to disrobe himself. A paint bucket and a brush were then secured and smokestack varnish, a tar-like substance, was daubed over them from head to foot. It was matted in their heir and no part of their bodies escaped but their faces. Their bodies were then partially covered with their clothing and the elders were marched to the home of E. H. Leibr.

NOISY FUNERAL IN CHINATOWN.

on stolidly, and all the while the clash of the cymbals was continued, save when the operator woud pause to wipe the sweat from his brow.

The worship music and other rites were continued until the arrival of Undertaker Garret who had charge of the burial, and at a signal from the musicians the casket was raised by the bearers and carried to the hearse.

Now pandemonium seemed to break loose. A half dozen musicians in a surrey started a deafening noise with huge gogs, cymbals and drums. The canopy, under which the corpse had rested was hastly pulled down, the covering ripped off, the supports knocked to pieces and piled in an express wagon together with the cooked food end all the dead man's clothing, bedding and personal effects. Then the procession formed. There were twenty hacks in line, besides numerous other wehicles filled with Chinese.

On the way to the cemetery paper was profusely scattered to ward off the devils, and the deafening racket of cymbals and other rocket-making instruments was continued until the grave was reached.

At the cemetery the cooked food was deposited on the altar, and huge bundles of paper were burned to assure the departed spirit of sufficient funds in the other world, while the Calestials again went through a form of bowing and kneeling in honor of the dead man, after which the easket was carried to the grave by the gowned attendants.

The clothing and other effects of the deceased were all thrust into the large oven to be burned up by the cemetery authorities.

A the Southern California confernes of the Methodist Episcopal Church

austion was raised on Thursday, in conaction will the report of the presidgelder, wheneupon Bishop Hamilton has the following semarks, as reported

Prolonged applause.]

With all due deference to the worthy and elequent bishop, we vesture the assetion that the argument set forth in his uppear on the surface, will not "stand he test of good, common horse sense" or if sober second thought.

For the State to recognize this, or any ther religious body, by relieving it from its proper share of taxation would be a sep toward the union of church and thate which has worked so much trouble in Europe, and will probably not last of California, the suggestion was made that fifty years from now the population of the State would not be less than 20,-State which has worked so much trouble in Europe, and will probably not last much longer in Great Britain, where all the people are taxed for the support of a church to which only a portion of them belong, even nominally. In Russia they go still further, and outracise those who do not belong to the established church, of which the Crar is the head, or even drive them into exile. Of course, we do not for a moment suppose there is any fanger that such a state of affairs might arise in this country, but still it is easier to stop such movements at the beginning than it is when they have gained momentum. seem conservative. Then, again, should such a plan be spied, it is difficult to see where we ould have no taxes to pay.

Let the church organizations cease constructing expensive and luxurious edifices before they have the money to pay for them, thus necessitating the devotion of much of their time to the financial language.

DOSSIBILITIES OF POPULATION.

In an editorial published in The Times on Admission day, on the future ropean countries which are somewhat smaller than California, with the approx-

Rhine, they pack soil up the steep mountain sides in baskets to make vine-yards. In China a correspondent recently told in The Times how the Chinese farmer will climb a flight of 3000 stone the same word in black and white from the pulpit is excused. The fact that this great religious daily would thus probably be refleved of the necessity of contributing a considerable amount of money to the State for taxation every year shall not be permitted to influence the opinion of The Times on the subject.
Another fact abould be considered in connection with this question. Many of the church organisations have accumulated large fortunes through the advance in value of real estate, which, again, steps to cultivate a piece of land no more than ten feet square. It is not necessary or desirable that we should ever bring intensive culture so far as this in the Golden State, but there is a wide range between that sort of thing and the system which keeps a tract of 100,000 acres of arable land as a cattle range or a barley field, and leaves hun-dreds of thousands of acres of beautiful lated large fortunes through the advance in value of real estate, which, again, has come about through the energy and expenditures of the mass of the taxpayers. We have seen several notable examples of this in Los Angeles. The ormate building in which the bishop delivered the speech above quoted—one of the most beautiful and fully-equipped church edifices in the United States—is itself an example of how money has been made in this manner. In New York one of the most valuable estates in the country is owned by a church organization.

The fact that the Methodist Church in inhabited.

Added to this the mineral wealth of the State and the great commercial possi-bilities that are opened up in the Orient and it must surely be admitted that the suggestion of The Times as to the popuation of California fifty years hence is een but wild animals and an occasion hand of sheep.

THE BOSS IN POLITICS.

As the date of the national election draws near, not only does the discuss

The fact that the Methodist Church in California pays, according to the bishop, $6,000 annually in taxes to the State of Celifornis shows that it owns much vertice able property here. We would venture to suggest that if the payment of taxes upon this property is regarded as an importion there are many shrewd investors who would willingly take over the burden, should the church be inclined to follow the suggestion of Jesus, who ence told the young man: "Sell all that thou hast and give to the poor." It will also be remembered that He said, on another occasion: "Bender unto Caesar the things that are Caesar's." The suggestion thrown out by the church bishop that it might he wall for the church of national politics increase in intensity, but, as might be expected, renewed attention is being devoted to the method by which politics are controlled, or guided, or managed in this country. Almost as many different opinions may be obtained in regard to the political machine, no "boss"—"no n'athin," in fact—to those of the professional political worker who believes that the only drawback to our present political methods is found in the fact that they do not always give mifficient power to of national politics increase in intensity, but, as might be expected, renewed at-tention is being devoted to the method by which politics are controlled, or guided, or managed in this country. Althings that are Caesar'a." The suggestion thrown out by the eloquent bishop that it might be well for the churches to build nothing but tents might not be unworthy of consideration in this mild climate. The Salvation Army has done a vast amount of good work under canvas. The churches would undoubtedly find plenty of philanthropic land owners who would furnish them with choice locations resit free, and in this way they would have no taxes to pay. do not always give sufficient power to the boas when they happen to run up against the "purity push." Between these two extremes may be found about every possible and some almost impos-sible theories in regard to political re-

As might be expected, those who demore numerous than those who stand up in public for its defense. It is generally pretty safe for a speaker or writer to denounce the machine and the boss in glittering generalities, seeing that a great majority of the public are on the bor of raising mortgages, instead of the spiritual labor of upbuilding the church, and they will then have less cause to worry about the question of taxation.

These, however, are not the most densely-populated countries of Europe.

The area of Belgium is 12,373 square miles, a country about the size of San Dicgo county. The population of Bell-ury is winked at, much as some a distance of from 1300 to 1600 yards. In a few minutes more the boats were dismantled, the material repacked on the horses, and the march resumed.

gium, according to recent estimates, is about 7,000,000, or 615 to a square milenearly one to the acre. If California in 1950 should be as densely populated as Belgium is today, it would contain the bad organization for any length of time.

as Belgium is today, it would contain the immense population of 96,000,000, or about 25 per cent. more than the total population of the United States today.

We have scarcely yet begun to realize the possibilities of the soil and climate of California, and what they can be made to produce by intensive culture. We have not yet quite freed ourselves from the old ideas of immense ranches, when a man would count his possessions from this mountain range to another. The a man would count his possessions from this mountain range to another. The longest step in the direction of small time it has done a vast amount of harm, and is still, unfortunately, by no means farms and intensive culture has been dead. To count upon the course of time nade in Southern California, but it is to correct political corruption is too much only a very small beginning in comparison with what we may expect to see in the future. Not only will the so-called deserts be reclaimed and made fruitful its avoid drastic medicines, but the services of a physician are sometimes needed at political headquarters, as well as in the hospital.

An article on the same subject by another writer, Francis V. Lowell, appeared recently in the Atlantic Monthly. The writer believes that the principal causes of the existence of the American boss are the universal need of elaborate and expensive political machinery, the undue impensive political machinery. valleys sufficient to afford healthful and profitable homes for hundreds of thous-ands of families where today nothing is those who operate it, and the confusion caused by conducting local elections upon national party lines. There is doubtless much truth in this statement, although to these causes might properly be added the timidity and indifference of the average American voter. The enormous development of our modern system of elec-tion machinery is shown by a recent public estimate that the total cost of elections in the United States this year-national, State and local-will be little if any less than $10,000,000. To what extent this enormous expenditure is justified by the results, cannot be stated off-hand, but it is obvious that so long as we keep such an intricate and powerful machine at work, there must be strong hands at the lever.

One of the strongest points made by the writer of this article is one which has frequently been insisted upon in The Times, namely, the necessity of separating local and national elections to as large a degree as possible. As soon as it is fully realized that municipal and county elections are business affairs, and entirely disassociated with national politics, we shall have made a long step forward in the direction of political reform, and the much-abused boss will have become a comperatively harmless kind of a tiger, with his claws clipped. That day will arrive just as soon as the great American voter says the word.

This is what William J. Bryan said at Knoxville, Tenn., September 16, 1896; "If there is any one who believes the gold standard is a good thing, or that it must be maintained, I warn him not to cast his vote for me, because I promise him it will not be maintained in this country longer than I am able to get rid And Mr. Bryan boasts that he has not changed his views since that

AT THE CHURCHES YESTERDAY.

Parental Instruction.

Parental Instruction.

REV. JOSEPH SMALE preached at the First Baptist Church yesterday morning from the text: "And these words, which I command the bits day shall be in thy heart; and thou shalt teach them diligently unto thy children, and thou shalt talk of them when thou walkest by the way, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou lest down, and when thou risest up."

Yesterday was Sunday-school Rally Day at this church. The preacher in his discourse to parents said: "We are accustomed to trace the origin of Sunday-schools to Robert Raikes, that noble soul who, in the city of Gloucester, Eng., in the year 1/80, gathered many children into the house of a Mr. King and engaged the services of four women as their teachers at the rate of a shilling each per day. But while this was the beginning of modern Sunday-school movements, let us not forget that a school for the instruction of religious knowledge is of great antiquity, having existed, if we are to trust the words of tradition, as carly as the times of Methusaleh. The rabbig also tell us that soon after the flood religious schools prevailed, and Josephus asserts that from the days of Morse the Jews assembled every week in the synagogue to be instructed in the law. Bible schools seem to have been very common in the time of Christ, and thouse of poverty to music. Of poverty to music. Of centidren and children law. Bible schools seem to have been of poverty to have corresponded in their main features to those of the present day. They occupied a very important piace in Jewish thinking, being regarded as a chief factor in establishing and per ulary. The petuating the religious character of their neitonal life. in Jewish thinking, being regarded as a chief factor in establishing and perpetuating the religious character of their national life.

"But the institution of the school never supplanted the work of the home. To parents in the scripture before us is outlined the work of inculcating scripture in the minds of their children. God's intention for family life is that it shall be conficuent.

life is that it shall be preëminently re ligious, but judging from present-da phenomena men do not interpret the to be the will of God, or if they do phenomena men do not interpret this to be the will of God, or if they do, there is an ignoring of such a will. With many the neglect is not wilful. The world's life moves in a religious atmosphere, which is made to do duty for many things which are essential to its well-being. Society is beset with grave perils that cannot be overthrown except by the working of vigorous moral principles. Trink of the instability of the marital relations, the growing preference of botel life over that of the home, and the tendency of substituting the Sunday-school for parental religious instruction. These are features of our national life that are of no credit to us and ought to be speedily eliminated.

"My subject is concerned with the last-named peril. The school has a real place in religious life, but it is destined to be but the complement of the work done each day in the home. It is meant as a colperative agency to quicken and promote what true parents are daily doing for their children. No mas or woman can have the fow of a family apart from its responsibilities. But as a cooperative agency to quicken and promote what true parents are daily doing for their children. No man or woman can have the jew of a family apart from its responsibilities. But this strange sight I have seen, parents doting over their young yet making no provision for their religious nature. Another strange thing also comes under ones observation, that of parents falling to give what is every boy's and every girl's due, a father's and a mother's solicitude. If I were the child of some parents I would consider my life accuraced. From my heart I pity the lot of those children whose mothers delegate their training to hired help. Shame upon those who regard the presence and care of children as a burden and a nuisance.

"Now we talk of man's rights and woman's rights, but is it not high time to sound a note on the rights of children? And perhaps if children had their rights we should hear less of those of man and woman. Do not abnormal conditions frequently prevail between man and woman touching their

"LITTLE EGYPT," THE QUEEN OF THE MIDWAY:

The Midway Carnival, given by the Los Angeles Athletic Club, will begin tonight in Fiesta Park, the gates opening at 7:30 p.m.

The buildings are all in readiness for the opening, and the grounds are now in the hands of the decorators.

One of the leading attractions is the little woman who created a sensation in New York by dancing on the table at the famous Seely dinner. She is popularly known by the cognomen of "Little Egypt." Her real name is Grace Bartel. She is a native of Beirut, Syria, but her parents are English. Her early life was spent principally at Damascus and Alexandria. She is only 20 years of age, and has been a professional dancer since she was 10 years old. When 13 years of age she appeared before the Khedive, who gave her the nickname of "Little Egypt." which has clung to her. Coming to America about two years ago, she has appeared in vaudeville ever since. Recently while in Seattle, "Swiftwater Bill" became enamored of nie Direct, 2:05%, and Hettle G., 2:05%.

Berland.

Another stellar attraction is Mile. La Lista, the serpentine and fire dancer, who created such a furore at Stockton and Sacramento street fairs. She closed last night a ten weeks, "engagement there offered her another four weeks, which she declined, in order to appear here. The San Francisco Examiner says she is a formidable rival of Papinta and Loie Puller.

The hyprotic marvel, Lunette, is another importation, who floats in midale in a trance. Gay Coney Island, together with a dozen or more other attractions. The street parade this morning will leave the park at 11:20 o'clock, passing through Broadway, Spring and Main streets. All the freaks and performers are to ride in automobiles, and the outdoor show will be well worth seeing.

They are among the largest winners.

BEST OF GRAND CIRCUITS.

The Grand Circuit of 1900 will go into records as one of the best in the history of harness racing, says the New York Tribune. From the opening at Detroit, on July 16, until the end at New York, just two months later, 589 miles were trotted and paced in races, and the average rate of speed through the circuit was faster than ever before. At the New York useting last week sixty-nine heats were troofted and paced at the rate of 2:19% to the mile, the trotters maintaining an average of 2:12 for twenty-nine heats, while the pacers reeled off forty miles at the rate of 2:09%, heads the list of money winners, with $4500 to his credit. The fastest green trotter of the campaign is C. J. Hamilin's wonderful your horse Lord Derby, that gained a record of 2:07 here last week. Of the seventy races trotted at the nine meetings between Detroit and New York, the winners of thirty-two were of Wilkes branch of the Hambletonian family. Fourteen were descendants of Electioneer in the direct male line, ten belong to other branches of the Hambletonian family, and fourteen were not of the Hambletonian family, and fourteen were not of the Hambletonian tribe. Connor, the twelve-year-old converted trotter, leads the pacers, with $7475 and a record of 2:03% to his credit. The fastest pacer of the circuit is Prince Olent, 2:02, though his earnings have not been large. James Butler's crack pair of young pacers, Hettle G., 2:05%, and Bonnie Direct, 2:05%, divide the honors as the fastest green sidewheelers of the year. Both were eligible to the 3:00 class at the beginning of the campaign. Bonnie Direct has won 3825 for Mr. Butler thus far, while the earnings of Hettle G. are $4250 td date. BEST OF GRAND CIRCUITS.

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Last year the Endeavor Society of the Congregational Church raised a sum of money, which was put into magazines, periodicals, etc., and the same placed in the public library. The plan was a success, and the librarian reports over 1000 people had access to the literature. A meeting was held by this society Wednesday night, and a committee, composed of I. S. Watson, G. G. Laidlow and Miss Minnie Horton, was appointed to solicit subscriptions to the fund for the coming year. The annual meeting of the Baptist Young People's Union was held this week, and the following officers were elected: Herhert Mardrip, president; Billa Powell, vice-president; Mrs. O. H. ones, be registered unto a year of happiness and prosperity."

THE RAM'S HORN.

The sermon by Rabbi Hecht at the Tabernacle today will be on "The Significance of the Cornet Sound." Formerly, in all congregations, and in some even today, the sounds of the cornet are produced on a ram's horn. In the modern synagoues this instrument is supplanted by a regular cornet, which produces the same sounds more correctly. This blowing of the cornet is to warn man that a new year has begun, and to examine and amend his conduct.

The reformed Jews celebrated only one day as New Year; that is, from sundown last evening until the same time this evening; while the orthodox, or conservative Jews, continue the festival for a day longer. The Taimud assigns various reasons as to why a day should be added to the one commanded by Moses, but the reformers adhere strictly to the law as it is promulgated in the Bible.

Other days which are celebrated are "The Fast of Yedaliah," which is observed on the third day of Tishri, in memory of Yedaliah Ben (son of) Achikam, whom Nebuchadnessan had appointed chief over the Israelites after the destruction of the temple, and who was skain on that day.

"The Day of Atonement." This most solemn day in the Hebrew calendar being in on the ninth of Tishri at even, and lasts until the even of the tenth, and is observed as a day of fasting, penitence and prayer.

"The Feast of Tabernacles." This begins on the fifteenth day of Tishri, in the points the Israelites to dwell in tabernacles or booths for seven days, in remembrance of those in which their ancestors had to make their abode for forty years, while they were in the wilderness. It is also called "Chag Hohosif," or the "Harvest Feast," and is similar to our Thanksgriving day. To these seven days while they were in the wilderness. A Corking Joke on Henry W. O'Melveny.

Agent at a Little Southern Pacific Station Mistook Him for a Safe Cracker.

Messra. W. G. Kerokhoff, John F. Francis and Henry W. O'Meiveny returned to Los Angeles Saturday from a very successful fishing expedition in the high Sierras. They first "explored" the migstic Yosemite Valley, and then with a pack train of mules, packers, guides and cooks, with Ed Baxter of the Yosemite Stage Company as generalissimo, made a break for the trackless forests of the higher mountains. Camp Kerckhoff—appropriately baptised—was established amid the stately firs and tamaracks, 8000 feet above the sea level, near Royal Arch Lake, whose crystal waters of unknown depth shelter many speckled and rainbow trout, those landed by the party weighing, when dressed, from three to five pounds. After ten days of royal sport in the crisp, frosty atmosphere of the mountains—ice forming every night—the happy party made a start for civilization, which after all, has its attractions, and in order to save twenty-four hours, arriving at Madera on the Southern Pacific at midnight, dusty, unkempt and unshaven, looking very much like a lot of hobos.

After settling down in the dreary, deserted station to await the arrival of the Los Angeles express, Mr. O'Meiveny concluded to purchase his railway ticket before the ticket window opened, and in his attempt he got next to trouble. It seems the railroad agent at a neighboring station had been robbed ten days before, and when the genial O'Meiveny opened the side door of the ticket room and stalked in with a swagger, born of ten days on muleback, the agent instantly sized him up as a hard case or road agent, and drawing his gun, held it in his right hand, while with his left he drew his roil from a drawer, and thrusting it into the open safe, slammed the door to. Then, holding the musale of his Cott's navy six toward that portion of Mr. O'Melveny's anatomy which is supposed to cover a man's dinner, he reached over and rapped out on the 'elegraph key, for the benefit of an assistant operator, the single word 'tough,' while the assistant answered in the same fashion, "yes, d—tough of the sensation he was creating, he extracted a $20 bill from his pocket an requested a ticket to Los Angers. The the agent was sure that he was "u against the real thing." The tender to much wealth by a man whose ges erai appearance would indicate the he could not have come honestly by it was positive proof that it was a schem to have him open the safe for change and then rob him. Backing away a far as the partition would permit an holding his gun at a "steady, aim fire," position, God knows what would have happened if the agent's assistan had not by this time recognised the supposed robber, and rapped out on the Key: "Los Angeles lawyer. O.K.; inchaif as tough as he looks." Drinks all round at O'Melveny's expense create a better state of affairs; but while the entire party state they have enjoyed "the time of their lives," they have also concluded that after another such try they will not strike the tracks of civilisation without visiting a barber shop and bathroom.
